

Established in 1926, Wilson Fabrics has always been proud of its Australian Made heritage manufacturing quality blind and curtain fabrics. With recent investments in new machinery and processes, we are well equipped for the future and now holding healthy stock levels with more on the way to ensure you, our valued customer, can now quote and order with confidence.

To ensure complete transparency we now have a stock update on our website with low or out of stocks and associated back in stock dates. These are listed by SKU and available to see 24/7 to ensure customers are always informed.

We are also in the process of resampling our core blind range offering in new look A5 sized samples that will be ready for distribution in June.

There are several key changes we have made with our new samples:

- Features our new branding, features and logo
- Concise colour palette of the most popular selling colours
- Image and specifications sacking made using anti-tear stock for durability
- Inter-rivets instead of screws for stability

These new samples will replace existing samples out in the market and all the ranges and colours will be backed by stock sitting in our warehouse, so customers can range these samples and sell with confidence.

We are also releasing new samples of our core blackout coated drapery ranges, which also now have condensed colour palettes consisting of the top selling colours and full stepped pieces for ease of use.

We are very passionate about our Australian manufacturing and we hope to bolster customer confidence now we are back in stock with existing ranges and with new ranges in the pipeline. We're excited to be able to service our customers with the quality and reliability that that has always been synonymous with Wilson Fabrics.
